RETURN OF SIR GEORGE BROOKMAN.

CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND.

Sir George Brookman, who, accompanied by his aged parents, sailed from New York for England on July 27th, arrived safely in London on Sunday, August 15th. He had been in America for nearly four years, and was much gratified to hear that his family was in good health. The King, on behalf of the nation, had expressed his regret at the death of Sir George and Lady Brookman, and had sent a message of sympathy to the family. The King also presented a silver cup to the family, and a gold watch to the captain of the ship. The family was received with great cordiality by the people of the town, and was entertained by a number of friends.
