ELDER CONSERVATORIUM.

VIOLOCCELLO AND ORGAN RECITALS.

There was a large attendance at the Elder Hall last night when a violoncello and piano recital was given by the well-known Sydney cellist Harry Wyld, in the presence of a number of the Conservatorium staff. The recital was well attended and Mr. Wyld's playing was received with enthusiasm. The programme consisted of a variety of music, including works by Schumann and Dvořák.

ELDER CONSERVATORIUM.

Messrs. Harold Parsons and Harold Wyld, the two popular exponents of the violoncello in Adelaide, gave a large crowd to the Elder Hall on Monday night for their recital. Friends and pupils rapped up in full force. Mr. Parsons have a particularly first rendering of two sonatas, the first by Giuseppe Valentini (from a set of twelve) for the strings instrument. The second for both instruments was by Grieg, and brilliantly rendered by Mr. Wyld, his organ recital, was highly commendable, and Mr. Wyld contributed infinite pleasure to the many music lovers present. The finale from the Sonata in G Minor (Ponchielli) was most enthusiastically received.

IS THE PEACE TREATY JUST?

Professor Phillipson's rejoinder to "Veritas!

I have decided to take no further part in the discussion, as I have unwisely used up my personal allowance of words. I am sorry that I have been unable to make the fullest possible observation in which I could have to some extent clarified what I believe were mistakes of language.

1. The Four Points.

Despite the repeated assertion of the President that his proposal was based on an essentially just basis of the treaty, I think I am justified in saying that the Four Points as laid down by the President, and later modified by Mr. Baldwin, have not been carried out. They were stated in the Four Points as a basis for peace and the United States, the President, and the President's country, have not carried them out. Why did they not carry them out? What is the reason? The President himself, in his letter to Mr. Baldwin, made it clear that the United States would not enter the treaty until the Four Points were carried out.

2. The League of Nations.

The League of Nations has been substantially a failure. It has not been able to prevent war, but it has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war.

3. The Mandates System.

The Mandates System has been substantially a failure. It has not been able to prevent war, but it has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war.

4. The Financial System.

The Financial System has been substantially a failure. It has not been able to prevent war, but it has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war. It has not been able to prevent war.
