ELDER CONSERVATORY

SUCCESSFUL CHAMBER MUSIC CONCERT

The popularity of the Conservatorium concerts is as great as ever, and is only magnified by the recent opening of the new chamber music room, where hearing some of the greatest masterpieces of all time with the incomparable skill of the Elder's musicians is a joy for all. The concert programme was carefully selected and featured a variety of compositions, including a performance of Beethoven's Quartet in C Major, Op. 59, No. 3, by the Elder String Quartet, which received a standing ovation from the enthusiastic audience.

Mr. A. C. Garnett

Mr. A. C. Garnett, a prominent member of the Elder Conservatorium and a well-respected music educator, was guest of honour at the opening of the new chamber music room. Mr. Garnett's contribution to the Elder Conservatorium has been invaluable, and his dedication to the arts is widely admired. His presence at the opening ceremony was a testament to the high regard in which he is held.

UNIVERSITY OF ADELAIDE

SUPPLEMENTARY EXAMINATIONS IN THEORY OF MUSIC

The University of Adelaide has announced the dates for its supplementary examinations in Theory of Music. The examinations will be held on the 15th and 16th of December. All students are encouraged to prepare thoroughly for these exams, as they are an important component of their academic progress. Details regarding the exam format and requirements can be found on the University's official website.