UNINHABITED ISLANDS

REPORT OF SCIENTIFIC EXPLORATION

Members of the scientific party, which was sent to Alaska in the summer of 1910, explored southern Yukon and the vicinity of the Franklin Island area, and in the autumn they returned to the United States via the Cape Breton Island. The party consisted of Professor Wood Jones and two daughters, Professor T. A. B. Osborn and Dr. J. D. Chamberlin and R. E. Beals.

The party pitched camp on the middle of the island, where the northern and southern land areas are in contact. The party was greatly assisted by the presence of the American mail steamer "Cape Breton," which was supplied by Captain G. F. B. Evans.

The party was able to carry out a thorough examination of the island, and the results of the research were of great importance in the study of the natural history of the area.

Animals

The land was inhabited by a variety of animals, including bears, wolves, and various birds. The party was able to study the habits of these animals and to collect information about their natural history.

Plants

The island was rich in flora, with a variety of plants and flowers. The party was able to collect specimens of many of these plants for further study.

"THE STAGE IRISHMAN"

Address to Dr. Harton

At the Mount Holyoke Summer School, a lecture was given on "The Stage Irishman" by Professor J. M. Harton, of the University of Pennsylvania. The lecture was well-received by the audience, which consisted of members of the faculty and students.

Dr. J. M. Harton, who has recently been appointed Professor of Philosophy at Harvard University, is expected to give another lecture on the subject of "The Stage Irishman" at the end of the summer session.

Professor T. A. B. Osborn, who gave the lecture, has been associated with the study of the subject for many years and is well-known for his contributions to the field.
