UNIVERSITY EXAMINATIONS.

From "A CANDIDATE'S FATHER"—
The candidates applying for the public subject scholarships (English literature) were admitted to the distinguishing influence of the University, and real estate holders in honor of the Governor's commands. That was the law. By the authority of the University, the candidates were obliged to do this particular paper, and I think the candidates should consider this in some respect. I am attended to some business in Vienna during the time this subject was being tried. How much more difficult must it have been in

UNIVERSITY EXAMINATIONS.

From "A CANDIDATE'S FATHER"—
The candidates applying for the public subject scholarships (English literature) were admitted to the distinguishing influence of the University, and real estate holders in honor of the Governor's commands. That was the law. By the authority of the University, the candidates were obliged to do this particular paper, and I think the candidates should consider this in some respect. I am attended to some business in Vienna during the time this subject was being tried. How much more difficult must it have been in

ADMISSIONS TO THE BAR.

Mr. Justice Poole's Advice.

Twelve of the aspiring young lawyers, who have been studying at the University of Sydney, have been called to the Bar in New South Wales. Among them are Mr. A. H. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the Chief Justice (Sir George Mason) last year, and Mr. S. G. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the same Chief Justice. Mr. A. H. Poole has been appointed to the position of solicitor to the University, and Mr. S. G. Poole has been appointed to the position of clerk to the University.

ADMISSIONS TO THE BAR.

Mr. Justice Poole's Advice.

Twelve of the aspiring young lawyers, who have been studying at the University of Sydney, have been called to the Bar in New South Wales. Among them are Mr. A. H. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the Chief Justice (Sir George Mason) last year, and Mr. S. G. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the same Chief Justice. Mr. A. H. Poole has been appointed to the position of solicitor to the University, and Mr. S. G. Poole has been appointed to the position of clerk to the University.

ADMISSIONS TO THE BAR.

Mr. Justice Poole's Advice.

Twelve of the aspiring young lawyers, who have been studying at the University of Sydney, have been called to the Bar in New South Wales. Among them are Mr. A. H. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the Chief Justice (Sir George Mason) last year, and Mr. S. G. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the same Chief Justice. Mr. A. H. Poole has been appointed to the position of solicitor to the University, and Mr. S. G. Poole has been appointed to the position of clerk to the University.

ADMISSIONS TO THE BAR.

Mr. Justice Poole's Advice.

Twelve of the aspiring young lawyers, who have been studying at the University of Sydney, have been called to the Bar in New South Wales. Among them are Mr. A. H. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the Chief Justice (Sir George Mason) last year, and Mr. S. G. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the same Chief Justice. Mr. A. H. Poole has been appointed to the position of solicitor to the University, and Mr. S. G. Poole has been appointed to the position of clerk to the University.

ADMISSIONS TO THE BAR.

Mr. Justice Poole's Advice.

Twelve of the aspiring young lawyers, who have been studying at the University of Sydney, have been called to the Bar in New South Wales. Among them are Mr. A. H. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the Chief Justice (Sir George Mason) last year, and Mr. S. G. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the same Chief Justice. Mr. A. H. Poole has been appointed to the position of solicitor to the University, and Mr. S. G. Poole has been appointed to the position of clerk to the University.

ADMISSIONS TO THE BAR.

Mr. Justice Poole's Advice.

Twelve of the aspiring young lawyers, who have been studying at the University of Sydney, have been called to the Bar in New South Wales. Among them are Mr. A. H. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the Chief Justice (Sir George Mason) last year, and Mr. S. G. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the same Chief Justice. Mr. A. H. Poole has been appointed to the position of solicitor to the University, and Mr. S. G. Poole has been appointed to the position of clerk to the University.

ADMISSIONS TO THE BAR.

Mr. Justice Poole's Advice.

Twelve of the aspiring young lawyers, who have been studying at the University of Sydney, have been called to the Bar in New South Wales. Among them are Mr. A. H. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the Chief Justice (Sir George Mason) last year, and Mr. S. G. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the same Chief Justice. Mr. A. H. Poole has been appointed to the position of solicitor to the University, and Mr. S. G. Poole has been appointed to the position of clerk to the University.

ADMISSIONS TO THE BAR.

Mr. Justice Poole's Advice.

Twelve of the aspiring young lawyers, who have been studying at the University of Sydney, have been called to the Bar in New South Wales. Among them are Mr. A. H. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the Chief Justice (Sir George Mason) last year, and Mr. S. G. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the same Chief Justice. Mr. A. H. Poole has been appointed to the position of solicitor to the University, and Mr. S. G. Poole has been appointed to the position of clerk to the University.

ADMISSIONS TO THE BAR.

Mr. Justice Poole's Advice.

Twelve of the aspiring young lawyers, who have been studying at the University of Sydney, have been called to the Bar in New South Wales. Among them are Mr. A. H. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the Chief Justice (Sir George Mason) last year, and Mr. S. G. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the same Chief Justice. Mr. A. H. Poole has been appointed to the position of solicitor to the University, and Mr. S. G. Poole has been appointed to the position of clerk to the University.

ADMISSIONS TO THE BAR.

Mr. Justice Poole's Advice.

Twelve of the aspiring young lawyers, who have been studying at the University of Sydney, have been called to the Bar in New South Wales. Among them are Mr. A. H. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the Chief Justice (Sir George Mason) last year, and Mr. S. G. Poole, who was called to the Bar by the same Chief Justice. Mr. A. H. Poole has been appointed to the position of solicitor to the University, and Mr. S. G. Poole has been appointed to the position of clerk to the University.