NEW TENNIS SHIELD
DONATED BY DR. F. S. HONE

The president who, in conveying the society's congratulations to the widow, remarked, "We have all been knowing Mr. Chesterman since he was a boy, and we have always admired his frank, open-hearted manner, his readiness to help others, and his willingness to do anything for the good of the society."

He always did achievement throughout a long and varied career, setting a high standard of excellence in all his work. The members of the society are deeply saddened by his death, and the loss of his leadership will be felt for many years to come.

In the same month, we also learned of the passing of Mr. John H. Smith, an old and valued member of the society. He was a long-time server and a generous donor to the society's various projects. His contributions were greatly appreciated by all, and his passing is a loss to the society.

The death of Mr. Chesterman marks the end of a long and distinguished career, and we extend our deepest sympathy to his widow and family. We will always remember his kindness, his generosity, and his dedication to the society.

The South Australian Lawn Tennis Association has accepted an offer by Dr. F. S. Hone to donate a shield for the South Australian Open Championships. The event is at present open to all players who are over 18 years of age. It is held on the best of three sets, and the prize money is to be determined by the organizers.

The shield is to be presented at the annual presentation dinner of the South Australian Lawn Tennis Association, which is held on the first Saturday in May. The event is open to all players who have competed in the South Australian Open Championships in the past, and the shield is to be awarded to the winner of the tournament.

time was a great tennis player and he won many tournaments throughout his career. He was a member of the Australian Davis Cup team for many years and played a crucial role in the team's success. His contribution to tennis will be remembered by all who knew him.

The shield is to be presented at the annual presentation dinner of the South Australian Lawn Tennis Association, which is held on the first Saturday in May. The event is open to all players who have competed in the South Australian Open Championships in the past, and the shield is to be awarded to the winner of the tournament.

DEATH OF MR. FREDERIC CHAPPELLE.

Forty Years a Headmaster.

The death occurred on Friday, November 15th, of Mr. Frederic Chapple, C.M.G., M.A., who was born in England on October 15th, 1840. This Irish gentleman, who from 1855 until 1921 was Warden of the Senate of the Adelaide University, will be long remembered for his association with Prince Alfred College, from which he retired from the latter position in 1921.

Mr. Chapple attended King's College, London, in 1855, and after receiving his degree of the London University, he was appointed Principal of the Royal Grammar School at Brighton. In 1867, he was appointed Headmaster of Prince Alfred College, a position which he held for the next 55 years. He was also a member of the Senate of the Adelaide University for many years.

Mr. Chapple was a man of great ability and integrity, and his influence on the students of Prince Alfred College was felt throughout his long career. He was a man of great kindness and understanding, and his guidance was much appreciated by all who knew him.

Mr. Chapple was a man of great ability and integrity, and his influence on the students of Prince Alfred College was felt throughout his long career. He was a man of great kindness and understanding, and his guidance was much appreciated by all who knew him.

The period covered by the history of the State There existed a wonderful association between the institution and its late secretary, both in the minds of the present and of thousands of past and present pupils. Not alone did the distinguished gentleman have control of the honors of "Tode," he also joined in numerous movements for the good of the community. He introduced vast improvements in school methods and systems, and ever recognized the potency of a perfect physique as an auxiliary to a well-equipped mind, the gymnastic and athletic departments of the college up to date, and encouraged his boys to take pride in the achievements of their Alma Mater in the sporting field. Chapple was always a strong disciplinarian, yet withal possessed a manner that was an inspiration to the students, who were always devoted to their principal. Mr. Chapple's four sons and two daughters all took University degrees and had high scholastic distinctions.

An Attractive Speaker.

For many years Mr. Chapple was known as a forceful and an attractive platform speaker. His addresses, whatever the subject, were characterized by a careful selection of words, a teacher of English—who subject he had the gift of putting his points pungently. He had trained an audience on a topic to which he had not given due thought, and he had the gift of putting his points pungently. He had trained an audience on a topic to which he had not given due thought, and he had the gift of putting his points pungently. He had trained an audience on a topic to which he had not given due thought, and he had the gift of putting his points pungently. He had trained an audience on a topic to which he had not given due thought, and he had the gift of putting his points pungently. He had trained an audience on a topic to which he had not given due thought, and he had the gift of putting his points pungently. He had trained an audience on a topic to which he had not given due thought, and he had the gift of putting his points pungently. He had trained an audience on a topic to which he had not given due thought, and he had the gift of putting his points pungently. He had trained an audience on a topic to which he had not given due thought, and he had the gift of putting his points pungently.