GIFT TO CAMBRIDGE.
A School of Pathology.

LONDON, January 20.

The Senate of the Cambridge University has approved an offer from the trustees of the Roscoe Foundation of £30,000, for the provision of a School of Pathology at $30,000 toward its endowment. The latter gift is conditional upon the university also finding a like amount.

The News

INTERNATIONALISM

(From Professor Coleman Phillips.)

PART II.

In my last article I pointed out how acute and pressing the problem of how to develop an "international mind". I dwelt on the fact that, under the cloak of a great power, the relationship of states into one international body is the only hope of the world. In this article I will try to show how this is possible and how the world is moving in this direction.

The News

Pen Portrait

South Australian Scientist

Dr. Herbert Basdow, M.A., B.Sc., is a prominent figure in South Australia. He has been active in science and politics, and has contributed to various journals and publications. He is known for his work in geology and paleontology.

Dr. H. Basdow

Dr. Basdow is about 40 years of age, and is at present the head of the Australasian Institute of Geology and Palaeontology in Australia. He has been a member of the Royal Geographical Society, and has contributed to various journals and publications. He is known for his work in geology and paleontology.

The News

Adelaideans in Sydney

Novelist and Secretary

Mrs. Kate Helen Weston, and her daughter Miss Veneta Weston, of Adelaide, are in Sydney as part of a tour. Miss Weston has been a prominent figure in the literary world, and her novel "The Sea" was published to great acclaim. Mrs. Weston is a successful businesswoman, and is known for her involvement in various charitable organizations.

The News

Reperatory Theatre

Dr. Strong New Chairman

YEAR'S WORK REVIEWED

"Could Mr. Bonyccott, Treasurer of the Adelaide Repertory Theatre, have looked through the season's list, had he been in Adelaide in the past, he would have been surprised. The season has been a success beyond all expectations. The theatre has been packed every night, and the audience has been enthusiastic. The season was a great success, and the theatre has been a great success."