THE UNIVERSITY.

COMMENORATION.

MANY GRADUATES.

CHANGES IN THE STAFF.

The annual commemoration of the University of Adelaide was held in the Eldorado Lecture Room on Wednesday afternoon. The building was filled and the ceremony opened with public addresses by the Hon. Minister of Education, Sir Samuel Wilson, the Premier of South Australia, Sir Samuel Hood, and the Director of the University, Sir John McLean.

The President of the University, Sir John McLean, in his address, referred to the establishment of the University in 1870 and the progress made since then. He spoke of the importance of education and the need for constant improvement in the field of learning.

The Chancellor, Sir George Murray, in his address, spoke of the importance of the University to the community and the need for continued support. He praised the work of the staff and students and expressed his confidence in the future of the University.

The Dean of the Faculty of Science, Professor John Brown, in his address, spoke of the achievements of the faculty and the importance of scientific research. He praised the work of the students and the support of the staff.

The Dean of the Faculty of Arts, Professor Charles Smith, in his address, spoke of the importance of the arts and the need for continued support. He praised the work of the students and the support of the staff.

The Dean of the Faculty of Law, Professor William Goodwin, in his address, spoke of the importance of law and the need for continued support. He praised the work of the students and the support of the staff.

The Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, Professor Frank Martin, in his address, spoke of the importance of medicine and the need for continued support. He praised the work of the students and the support of the staff.

The Dean of the Faculty of Engineering, Professor John Jones, in his address, spoke of the importance of engineering and the need for continued support. He praised the work of the students and the support of the staff.

The Dean of the Faculty of Fine Arts, Professor William Liddell, in his address, spoke of the importance of art and the need for continued support. He praised the work of the students and the support of the staff.

The Dean of the Faculty of Commerce, Professor John Harvey, in his address, spoke of the importance of commerce and the need for continued support. He praised the work of the students and the support of the staff.

The Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture, Professor John Brown, in his address, spoke of the importance of agriculture and the need for continued support. He praised the work of the students and the support of the staff.

The Dean of the Faculty of Education, Professor John McLean, in his address, spoke of the importance of education and the need for continued support. He praised the work of the students and the support of the staff.

The Dean of the Faculty of Music, Professor John Smith, in his address, spoke of the importance of music and the need for continued support. He praised the work of the students and the support of the staff.