An Interesting Review

Nature. The weekly British Illustrated journal of science, on February 9 published the following notice of the latest Science Guild handbook: "The Mammals of South Australia," by Edgar H. Wallis.

It is not necessary to insist on the interest and importance of the fauna and flora of the continent and the existing and potential industries that arise from the flora and fauna. It is perhaps worth observing that our relatively small fauna and flora are of great importance to us. They are the basis of our food supplies, and the conditions of our agricultural industries.

In this publication, the author has given a brief account of the fauna and flora of South Australia, and the conditions under which they exist. He has also discussed the possibilities of the development of the fauna and flora of South Australia, and has pointed out the importance of conserving the natural resources of the country.

INTER-UNIVERSITY SPORTS

The Annual Inter-University Sports were held at the University of Adelaide. The Otagon, hosted by the University of Melbourne, took place in the 98 yards race by the following results: Leonard, 58.4; Thomson, 58.5; Brown, 58.6; and Jackson, 58.7.

Mr. R. W. Jeffries, one of the Liberal Federation candidates for North Adelaide, addressed a large crowd at the Liberal Federation meeting on March 26. He said that it was his intention to contest the election, and he was willing to be considered for the position of any individual outside a Parliamentary party, but not of the Liberal Federation. He was not responsible for the statements of any individual not a member of the Liberal party, and he was not responsible for the statements of any individual not a member of the Liberal Federation. He was not responsible for the statements of any individual not a member of the Liberal Federation.

Mr. Jeffries was asked if he would have any difficulty in working with Sir Henry Durston and Mr. Turley. He said that his relations with Sir Henry Durston and Mr. Turley were cordial, and that he felt that they would have no difficulty in working together.

Example of Germany

Before the war, Germany was a great power and had a large army. Since the war, Germany has been weakened, and the idea of a plan for shackles is not new, and is not based on any idea of the value of the article.
