ELDER CONSERVATORY CONCERT.

The youth concert of the Conservatory was attended by a large gathering of students, when a well-arranged programme was given. The programme was arranged to the best advantage of the students and the public, and in this respect it was very successful. The concert was under the direction of Mr. H. V. Warner, and was well attended.

CONSERVATORY CONCERT.

The concert was well attended and was well received. The programme was well balanced and the performers did their best. The concert was attended by a large number of students and the public. The performers were well received and the concert was highly successful.

INCREASED MORTALITY.

A very interesting and important event took place at the Conservatory last week, when a large number of students were presented with medals. The medals were given in recognition of their hard work and their good conduct. The students were well received and were highly commended for their good work.

MORTALITY.

The mortality at the Conservatory has increased very much during the last month. The students have been very active and have been responsible for much of the increase in mortality. The students have been working very hard and have been doing a great deal of work. The mortality has increased very much and the students have been very active in their work.

ELDER CONSERVATORY CONCERT.

The concert was well received and was highly successful. The programme was well balanced and the performers did their best. The concert was attended by a large number of students and the public. The performers were well received and the concert was highly successful.