INDUSTRY AND HEALTH

THE DOCTOR IN FACTORIES.

Value of Industrial Medicine.

Dr. J. E. B. Brodie, the famous industrial physician, has written the following:

"The chief value of industrial medicine is the prevention of industrial diseases. It is the only way in which the health of the worker can be maintained. The more industrial diseases are prevented, the less the number of cases that require treatment. The prevention of industrial diseases is the most important work of industrial medicine."
