SCIENCE CONGRESS IN FULL SWING

SECTIONS BEGIN REAL WORK IN EARNEST.

MANY INTERESTING PAPERS DELIVERED.

The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.

MONETARY POLICY.

Reactions Upon Australia.

In his presidential address to the social and scientific section, Prof. G. B. Stoney of Dublin, speaking for the President, E. W. Whittaker, of England, and others, said:

"The members attending the Congress of the Australasian Association for the Advancement of Science began their work in earnest at the University on Tuesday morning. All 14 sections were at work, and many interesting papers were delivered. The deliberations will be continued to-day and during the week.