As announced in yesterday’s local press, Mr. H. H. Corbin, the Adelaide University has been appointed

Professor H. H. Corbin.

Professor H. H. Corbin, appointed Professor of Forestry at the Auck-l and University, has been awarded his B.Sc. degree at the University of London in 1909 and at the University of Edinburgh, with honours, in 1910. He was assistant to the Lecturer in Forestry, at the Edinburgh University in 1910, and was a post-graduate student in forestry at the University of Munich in 1911, where he became familiar with the Australian Australian forests. During his appointment in Australia as a scientific advisor on rural advisory to the Federal Government, his controlled and organized the course of school. He later participated in the Australian National and the Platonian National Conference on Forestry, including Messrs. S. L. Kessl, D. Watson, and R. H. H. McKinnon, who are the leaders of the Australian Forestry Department. Mr. E. G. McKinnon had been the first Australian to hold the degree of Bachelor of Forestry.

---

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

AMERICA’S ALOOFNESS.

Mons. J. W. Woodruff and Malcolm McKinnon entertained dinner at Balmain’s Club, Saturday evening, in honour of the North American delegates to the League of Nations. The president (Professor K. E. Macdonald) will address the members of the delegation.

---

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

AMERICA’S ALOOFNESS.

Mons. J. W. Woodruff and Malcolm McKinnon entertained dinner at Balmain’s Club, Saturday evening, in honour of the North American delegates to the League of Nations. The president (Professor K. E. Macdonald) will address the members of the delegation.

---

NEW ZEALAND FORESTRY.

Mr. H. H. Corbin's Appointment.

Keen regret was expressed in Adela-Ida in connexion with the passing of the late Mr. H. H. Corbin. Mr. Corbin was appointed to the position of Professor of Forestry at the University of London in 1909 and at the University of Edinburgh, with honours, in 1910. He was assistant to the Lecturer in Forestry, at the Edinburgh University in 1910, and was a post-graduate student in forestry at the University of Munich in 1911, where he became familiar with the Australian Australian forests. During his appointment in Australia as a scientific advisor on rural advisory to the Federal Government, his controlled and organized the course of

school. He later participated in the Australian National and the Platonian National Conference on Forestry, including Messrs. S. L. Kessl, D. Watson, and R. H. H. McKinnon, who are the leaders of the Australian Forestry Department. Mr. E. G. McKinnon had been the first Australian to hold the degree of Bachelor of Forestry.

---

A LOSS TO SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

Mr. H. H. Corbin came to South Australia from London, where he has been appointed Professor of Forestry at the University of London. He was appointed to the position of Lecturer in Forestry at the University of London in 1910, and was also a post-graduate student in forestry at the University of Munich in 1911, where he became familiar with the Australian Australian forests. During his appointment in Australia as a scientific advisor on rural advisory to the Federal Government, his controlled and organized the course of

school. He later participated in the Australian National and the Platonian National Conference on Forestry, including Messrs. S. L. Kessl, D. Watson, and R. H. H. McKinnon, who are the leaders of the Australian Forestry Department. Mr. E. G. McKinnon had been the first Australian to hold the degree of Bachelor of Forestry.

---

TO THE STATES.

Mr. H. H. Corbin's appointment as Professor of Forestry at the University of London was a loss to South Australia. Mr. Corbin was appointed to the position of Lecturer in Forestry at the University of London in 1910, and was also a post-graduate student in forestry at the University of Munich in 1911, where he became familiar with the Australian Australian forests. During his appointment in Australia as a scientific advisor on rural advisory to the Federal Government, his controlled and organized the course of

school. He later participated in the Australian National and the Platonian National Conference on Forestry, including Messrs. S. L. Kessl, D. Watson, and R. H. H. McKinnon, who are the leaders of the Australian Forestry Department. Mr. E. G. McKinnon had been the first Australian to hold the degree of Bachelor of Forestry.

---

SOUTH AUSTRALIA'S FOREST.

The South Australian Forester (Mr. Mc. A.) has been appointed to the position of Professor of Forestry at the University of London. He was appointed to the position of Lecturer in Forestry at the University of London in 1910, and was also a post-graduate student in forestry at the University of Munich in 1911, where he became familiar with the Australian Australian forests. During his appointment in Australia as a scientific advisor on rural advisory to the Federal Government, his controlled and organized the course of

school. He later participated in the Australian National and the Platonian National Conference on Forestry, including Messrs. S. L. Kessl, D. Watson, and R. H. H. McKinnon, who are the leaders of the Australian Forestry Department. Mr. E. G. McKinnon had been the first Australian to hold the degree of Bachelor of Forestry.

---

SOUTH AUSTRALIA'S FOREST.

The South Australian Forester (Mr. Mc. A.) has been appointed to the position of Professor of Forestry at the University of London. He was appointed to the position of Lecturer in Forestry at the University of London in 1910, and was also a post-graduate student in forestry at the University of Munich in 1911, where he became familiar with the Australian Australian forests. During his appointment in Australia as a scientific advisor on rural advisory to the Federal Government, his controlled and organized the course of

school. He later participated in the Australian National and the Platonian National Conference on Forestry, including Messrs. S. L. Kessl, D. Watson, and R. H. H. McKinnon, who are the leaders of the Australian Forestry Department. Mr. E. G. McKinnon had been the first Australian to hold the degree of Bachelor of Forestry.