EAST AND THE WEST.

Present Strained Relations.

Views of Mr. F. Kunz.

An ominous warning of the increasing strain in the relations between Eastern and Western peoples is voiced by the young American attaches to the Commonwealth and Imperial Council. He holds the view that, in addition to teaching comparative religion, it is of the utmost importance that the two nations should be taught to respect each other's way of life.

Mr. Kunz is visiting Australia first on the occasion of the Commonwealth and Imperial Council. He holds the view that, in addition to teaching comparative religion, it is of the utmost importance that the two nations should be taught to respect each other's way of life.

"One must remember," Mr. Kunz said, "that a day and a half in the life of the Oriental is very short, and that a day and a half in the life of the European is very long."

Mr. Kunz added that the Thoroughbred, a racehorse that has done much for the Han and the East, has been hurt by the arrogance and the ignorance of the Westerner. He said that the Thoroughbred had done much for the Han and the East, and that it was a sign of progress when the Westerner began to understand the Oriental.
