GRADUATE A A true idea is being formed of the usefulness of a course at the University. Generally it has been viewed as an institution for the culture of the mind, where those who are in need of further education might become knowledgeable individuals. Progress in business, however, is especially in America, in commerce, which has shown that studying the fundamentals of business is essential for students who are considering a career in this field. Employers appreciate the value of such courses, and the programs that offer courses on business principles will likely be in demand in the future.

There are thousands of such working students in America, and there is no reason why there should not be a great many of them in Australia. For the furtherance of this idea the university has been established in connection with the University and Melbourne Universities, and a similar program is now being taken in Adelaide. This forward movement deserves every commendation and encouragement Employers of all kinds should have it impressed upon them that they are sure to be better served. Their business will receive a greater stimulus on more professional lines by the employment of trained minds.

The University Employment Bureau will serve to bring together employers who are in need of business men and women of high standing, to fill positions of responsibility in every branch of the profession. Hereby the educational opportunities that are open to every citizen in the educational institutions of the country will be increased, and the demands of industry will be met with efficiency and ability. Every man should have the right to compete on an equal footing for the opportunities in the field of his studies, and this is the purpose of the University Employment Bureau.

Advantages of University Course.

That he would be sorry if the study of economics resulted in the guiding of the Adelaide University in a merely conservative course of action, was made by the President of the Chamber of Commerce at the annual dinner of the Adelaide University Commerce Students' Association at the Grosvenor on Saturday night.

Mr. Bruce said he was proposing "The Commerce Students' Association," and in this connection he noted that one of the objects of the association was to improve the constitution of the constitution, to be a body of students engaged in commerce, and that the association was to be composed of students who are interested in commerce and are desirous of improving their knowledge of the subject. The association was the result of the efforts of the students and the result of the efforts of the students and was established with the object of promoting the interests of commerce.

That there was a great deal to be said for the study of commerce was due to the large number of opportunities that are available to the student who is interested in the subject. The association was established with the object of promoting the interests of commerce and was to be composed of students who are interested in commerce and are desirous of improving their knowledge of the subject. The association was the result of the efforts of the students and the result of the efforts of the students and was established with the object of promoting the interests of commerce.

At the meeting of the association, held last night, there were over 200 members present, and the number of students who had been brought into close contact with many of the most prominent men of the city had the advantage of seeing a large number of the leading merchants and financiers of the city.

The meeting was held in the University Senate Chamber, and the speakers included Mr. Bruce, Mr. M. Baillieu, Mr. W. H. McAlpine, Mr. W. J. Hunter, and Mr. T. J. Flinders.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

The speakers emphasized the importance of commerce and its education in Australia. Mr. Bruce said that commerce was the key to the success of any country. He said that commerce must be taught in every school and university in the country, and that it was the duty of every student to study commerce and to become familiar with its principles.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That the meeting was an excellent one, and that the students of commerce were entitled to the highest praise, was evident from the large number of students who were present. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.

That commerce was the key to the success of any country was evident from the number of students who were present at the meeting. The students were very much interested in the subject and were ready to do their best to promote the interests of commerce.