of the organ gallery were the windows.—Revelations 7:14, the text of which was given to the readers. It was a beautiful sight, the whole church was filled with light and joy, as the choir sang the hymn, "Jesus loves me, yes, Jesus loves me." The organ played softly, as the people listened to the prayer of the minister. The service concluded with a benediction and the people left the church, filled with hope and peace.