The calendar of the University of Adelaide (published as usual by W. K. Thomas and Company, 208 pages, even though examination papers and other matter have been bundled into a supplementary volume) is in the press. It is said that the statisticians, regulations, and list of past and present students and members of the staff would have been 750 under-graduates, and that the numbers would have increased to over 1,000, without counting the non-resident students controlled by the University. The financial resources of the University are now about £4,000, and the Treasurer, Mr. Joseph W. B. Page, has given assurance that there has been no overdrawn. Progress is satisfactory, and it appears that the University is in a prosperous condition. A summary of the past year's work is as follows:

- Forestry College
  - To be established at Canberra.
  - Newly appointed staff, including Dr. A. T. Beale, who was formerly at Washington and who will have charge of the establishment.

- Elder Conservatorium
  - Inaugural Evening.
  - The inaugural evening of the Elder Conservatorium of Music on Tuesday evening was marked by the attendance of a large and enthusiastic audience. The subject of the evening was 'Backward glances in musical history', and it was opened by Dr. W. H. Davies, who delivered an invective address on the subject of the evening. The girls and boys in the audience were much impressed, and the evening was a great success. The conservatorium is a great addition to the University, and it is hoped that it will be a great success in the future.

Revising the Calendar

- Address by Public Actuary
  - Dr. A. T. Beale, who was formerly at Washington and who will have charge of the establishment, delivered an address on the subject of the evening. The girls and boys in the audience were much impressed, and the evening was a great success. The conservatorium is a great addition to the University, and it is hoped that it will be a great success in the future.

- What Musicality Means
  - Mr. W. H. Davies, who was formerly at Washington and who will have charge of the establishment, delivered an address on the subject of the evening. The girls and boys in the audience were much impressed, and the evening was a great success. The conservatorium is a great addition to the University, and it is hoped that it will be a great success in the future.

Polish Diplomats

- There was a keen desire on the part of Polish diplomats and pro-Polish feeling throughout Europe to have Turkey annexed to Poland. This wish was not shared by the Polish people, who were anxious to maintain their independence. The Polish situation was complex, and the Polish people were feeling very anxious about their future.

- Italy and Fascism
  - The professor was invited to express his views on the subject. He stated that one thing he would have to remember is the conditions which prevailed in Italy, and that the situation was so complex that it could only be understood by those who knew the country. The weather was very hot, and the conditions were difficult. He stated that the temperature was high, and that he had to be careful to keep cool. He stated that he was being visited by the local authority, and that he took great care to see that he had enough water. He stated that he had to be careful to see that he had enough food, and that he was being visited by the local authority, and that he took great care to see that he had enough water. He stated that he had to be careful to see that he had enough food.