PAPUAN NATIVES.

A STUDY IN ANTHROPOLOGY.
BY AN ADELAIDE SCIENTIST.

"The Natives of the Papuan Delta" is the title of a handsome volume, published by the Government of the Territory of Papua, and written by Mr. J. E. Williams, M.L.A., who is also the author of "The Natives of the Northern Territory." The book is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the Papuan people, and is well illustrated with maps and photographs. The author has visited the Papuan Delta, and has made a careful study of the native conditions in the area. His work is based on a large amount of field work, and is the result of a long period of investigation.

South Australia's List.

Twenty-five Rhodes scholars have been appointed from South Australia, and the list includes several well-known names. The appointments were made by the Government of the colony, and the scholars will proceed to Oxford University to take up their studies.

The Medical Campaign.

The Medical Campaign is a matter of great importance, and the work of the doctors and nurses is of invaluable assistance to the people in the country districts. The campaign is being carried out with great zeal, and the results are most satisfactory. The doctors are working hard to improve the health of the population, and the nurses are doing their best to assist the sick and the needy.

AUSTRALIA'S MAN-DATE.

The Medical Campaign.

The Medical Campaign is a matter of great importance, and the work of the doctors and nurses is of invaluable assistance to the people in the country districts. The campaign is being carried out with great zeal, and the results are most satisfactory. The doctors are working hard to improve the health of the population, and the nurses are doing their best to assist the sick and the needy.

ELDER CONSERVATORIUM.

The Elder Conservatorium has been at work for some time, and the progress of the students is most encouraging. The conservatorium is well equipped, and the teachers are doing their best to give the pupils a thorough training in music. The conservatorium is well attended, and the concerts given are most enjoyable.

ERNEST MURPHY.

The work of Mr. Ernest Murphy, the engineer, is of great importance, and his contributions to the engineering art are highly appreciated. Mr. Murphy is a skilled engineer, and his work is of great value to the country. His contributions to the engineering art are highly appreciated.