THE RIGHT REV. DR. J. R. HARMER
(Third Bishop of Adelaide, and now Bishop of Broken Hill)

The Right Rev. Dr. A. N. THOMAS
(Fourth Bishop of Adelaide)

The Right Rev. Dr. W. A. DAVIES
(High Bishop of South Australia)

Friendly Society, the Navy and Army, and the Church of England, had all met to give the help that a special corner of the education might give.

We do not live in the past. The Bishop said. "We live in the present, and in the days to come. The Cathedral is the power of the spiritual life of the diocese, and we hope those outside of Adelaide will make more use of the Church as it is the case in the past."

The staff of the Cathedral of presenting the history of the church, the elaborate Eucharist, the Dean (The Very Rev. G. E. Young), the Precentor (Rev. C. Milne), the special preacher (Rev. R. C. Martin), and the organist (Mr. J. M. Thomson).

The First Service.

The following is an excerpt from "The Cathedral of St. Peter's, Adelaide, " by the Right Rev. Dr. W. A. Davies:

"About twenty minutes before the service, the clergy walked the aisles in procession. The light of the candles flickered and the voices of the organists rose in harmonious music."

The Magnificat had been sung, and the lesson from Chapter 4 of the Magnificat had been chanted, also the Collect. The Ven. H. J. M. Davies then preached on the need for prayer and the importance of the Church in the community.

The Magnificat is the hymn of praise to God, and it is sung by the congregation during the service. The hymn is a reflection of the joy and gratitude of the people towards God.

The Magnificat is a beautiful piece of music, and it is always a highlight of the service. The congregation sings it with great enthusiasm and devotion.

The service was held at St. Peter's Cathedral, Adelaide, on the 26th of June, 1879, and was attended by many prominent members of the community, including the Governor of South Australia, Sir Henry Dunlop, and other dignitaries.
