To fire out your article, I am sure

Ah! so the news is sure enough

My brain is now equal to

Dare we call? I have fire

Fire will be all right. I can do

Jane, 17.33

Cripps's Corner, Forest Row, Sussex

Dear Fish...

It was all right. I went to

It was a big, big, big, big, big, big, big

It was not at all. I went to

I can't do it.
"All the same I shall always obey the commands of circumstance."

How is that state of things distinguished from determinism, if it exists? I have no difficulty in believing in free will of that sort, whatever figure I look at it. But if it is Creative, it seems to me that his Siring Squad must have some power of moving the target. How can we guess more than the target of past circumstances?

But I have not yet fully taken in your letter, so ought not to write.

Your sincerely,

[Signature]

[Signature]