Dear Hoppers,

I very much congratulate you on such a fruitful collecting session. Don't fall down any precipices as they do for eidelweiss! At the same time as your card, I heard from Keith Runcorn who has a beautiful turnover taking place within eight millimeters of a Devonian mudstone. He says Irving thinks there is another in the Silurian, but if you have one in the Pleistocene there ought to be about forty in the Silurian I suppose.

Sincerely yours,
