Dear Professor Fisher,

Owing to the death of Dr. Kinler Wilson, who was Editor of the Journal of Neurology and Psychopathology, I was approached and invited to be Editor of the above Journal. I agreed on condition that as Co-Editors I should have four others, namely, Donny Brown, Alfred Meyer, Aubrey Lewis and McCance, and I expressed a wish that the Editorial Committee be enlarged to include authorities in the various branches of medical science. At the meeting yesterday of the Editorial Committee I expressed a hope that they would invite you to join the Committee and I have pleasure to-day in writing to you to express this, their unanimous wish.

You naturally ask what will the duties be. There is actually only one Editorial Committee Meeting per year, but I and my four Co-Editors hope to obtain the assistance of the Editorial Committee by requesting their opinion on certain papers submitted for publication. For this purpose the Committee has been enlarged and Professors Woolard, Adrian, Golla and Bechter have all been approached with a request to join the Committee.

The aim of the Editors is to make this a Journal dealing with all aspects of neurology and psychiatry including genetics, etc., and we hope to make the standard a high one. I sincerely hope that you will see your way to joining the Committee. I would indeed be very grateful.

Believe me,

Yours sincerely,

E. ARNOLD CARMICHAEL
Editor.
