Dear Maclean,

Many thanks for your letter, which will help me in steering a just course among the reefs and shoals you indicate. I am, in fact, insisting that Mahalonobis shall be responsible for scheduling the whole of my time in India, but, and this also needs insistence, that he shall allot adequate time for places other than Calcutta. In the end I suppose I shall get a night or two in Bombay, either going or returning. But I am sure my whole trip will be in a howling mess unless some one person sorts it out from your end.

Yours sincerely,

R.A. Fisher.
