8th January, 1959.

My dear Stock,

It was extremely kind of you to write me such a long letter and to remind me of your interests.

This Department also had great difficulty in obtaining a copy of my 1930 "Genetical Theory", but after incredible delays Dover Publications have now produced a reprint, or rather a little more for I sent them a lot of new material. This, I think, really embarrassed them, because they are very competent at photographic reproduction of well set up type, but probably have to work through pretty incompetent typesetters for any new work.

I hope you will like the offprints. One of the stories you ascribe to Winston I first heard many years ago about a certain Dean of Durham on his first acquaintance with Durham Palace. However, stories pass from man to man wherever they can find a convenient foothold.

Sincerely yours,

Encs.

Dr. C. S. Stock.
