

March 2nd, 1936

Dear Dr Brynmor Thomas,

I do not at all see why you should not use plots as small as 6 x 6 yards, or 36 square yards. Of course it is totally impossible to say, without experience, what precision could be obtained by plots of this size, but the enlargement of experience of this kind is, after all, one of the purposes of experimentation.

Yours sincerely,