

27th. September 1944.

My dear Verschuer,

I received your letter on my return from Scotland, and find that Miss Speyer, my secretary, had already notified the Royal Society, who have posted fifty offprints to your address.

I am so sorry to hear that the new currency regulations have hit you.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,