

7th. October 1947.

Dear von Verschuer,

I have just seen on my return from the United States your letter of September 16th., though not the previous letter to which you refer.

Thank you for the "Erbpathologie" and the offprints. I am consulting Penrose, who now edits the Annals of Eugenics, on the possibility of a review in English.

I have sent a small gift of tea, but I am afraid it was sent too late for you to have received it when you wrote on 14th. September.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,
