August 15, 1952.

Professor Ø. Winge
Carlsberg Experiment Station
Copenhagen, DENMARK

My dear Winge:

I have just learned while traveling here of the preliminary steps which have been taken towards forming a Biometric Society or branch of the International Society in Denmark.

This news spurs me to do as I have long intended and write to you about such a project. I understand it was N. K. Jerne in the Department of Biological Standards of the State Serum Institute who has acted as convener so far, and if you are sufficiently interested to give the group the great advantage of your name and membership, I wonder if you would contact him and let him know of your interest.

I am sure that if you feel inclined to do this, it will lead other geneticists in your country and in Sweden to take this biometric movement seriously, and I am sure that this will react most favorably on the development of genetic studies.

Sincerely yours,

R. A. Fisher
First President

RAF/hb